

DG2L Tech to enter Indian market

Pune: New York-based DG2L Technologies, a H.264 based next generation media solutions provider, announced an entry into the India market for set top boxes (STBs) as a preferred partner with Wire and Wireless India (WWIL). It has started field trials for WWIL and expects the commercial deployment to begin by 2008. "If selected, we will have to supply 1 - 1.5 million STBs in India in the next 18 - 24 months," said Ankur Sheth, co-founder, director and chief executive officer, DG2L Technologies.
